A RESOLUTION

1 Creating the House Study Committee on Internet Filter Protection Technology; and for other purposes.

3 WHEREAS, the link between human trafficking issues and easily accessible online obscenity, child pornography, and links to prostitution hubs has been established in many different studies; and

6 WHEREAS, Georgia is battling against sex trafficking and sex trafficking is closely linked to addiction and behavioral and mental health issues; and

8 WHEREAS, a committee to study this public health problem is necessary to determine if Internet filtering devices are the best method to address the issue of all too easily accessible obscenity, child pornography, and links to prostitution hubs and which would result in the potential reduction and prevention of such issues; and

12 WHEREAS, beyond Internet filtering, a committee will further explore the potential for more effective temporary and long-term addiction and mental and behavioral health modalities to solve this public health problem which directly impacts homelessness, increased suicide rates, veterans with PTSD, the stable family unit, the education system, an overloaded DFACS system in this state, a clogged court system, and overcrowding in the state's correctional institutions; and

18 WHEREAS, this state has a compelling interest in protecting its youth and the public at large from being exposed to obscenity through products sold in this state that enable Internet access to minors; and WHEREAS, this state has a compelling interest to protect consumers' freedom to choose to avoid their children's exposure to obscene websites; and

WHEREAS, other states are looking into the feasibility of imposing a filter deactivation fee to offset the secondary harmful effects and burden on the state that stem from exposure to such unfettered Internet access that is cultivated by products that enable access to the Internet; and

WHEREAS, it would be beneficial if manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers that sell products that enable access to the Internet did install filters that would protect consumers from accessing child pornography and other types of obscenity; and

WHEREAS, the money generated by a filter deactivation fee could be used by this state to fund much needed programs to provide temporary long-term residential mental health treatment, holistic mental health counseling, and treatment alternatives to psychiatric drug therapy for these issues; and

WHEREAS, it would be beneficial to study the feasibility of installing filters on all products sold in this state that enable Internet access and enacting a filter deactivation fee to fund much needed mental and behavioral health and addiction programs.
